DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

The claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. In particular, claims 2-4, 9-11, and 16-18 each positively claim part of a user's hand, which is non-statutory subject matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1-7 and 15-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Alzheimer et al., US Patent D470,662. See below attachments.

An ergonomic handle comprising a main body portion; and an appendage support member projecting laterally from the main body portion, the appendage support member comprising a top surface that provides a concave recess wherein a principle axis of the concave recess passing through a center of curvature and a vertex of the concave recess is substantially perpendicular to and offset from a centerline of the main body portion, and a substantially continuous convex shaped bottom surface configured to provide an ergonomic support surface for an appendage of a user.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Alzheimer et al. in view of Herron et al., US Patent 6,145,151. Alzheimer does not teach the use of the handle design with a knife. However, it is known in the art to use the same handle design for both a paint brush and for a scraper (or putty) knife edge. Herron shows an example of this (see figure 7). Note that the disclosed scraper edge of Herron is broadly considered a knife and is structurally equivalent. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to modify the design of Alzheimer so that it would include a knife, such as that shown by Herron, for the purpose of gaining additional utility from the handle design in a scraper or putty knife application.

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-21 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
